McCall's Patterns and Fashion Sheets.

Coulter Dry Goods Co

Yesterday we told you of a great purchase of fine Furs far away below regular values. Each day prices near or will see the last of many attractive lines that'll not be here again this season.

Today It's Dress Goods.

Some time ago we told you that this was none the less a Dress Goods store on account of being a store of many departments. The Dress Goods Section is separate and distinct—a store within itself. Nowhere else in the Pacific Southwest will you find assortment so broad and values so satisfying.

75 Cents For $1.00 Crepe Suitings.

Beautiful, soft, slippy all-wool crepe suitings; splendid new colors—including cardinal, mode, scarlet, navy, tan and two shades of gray—full 42 inches broad and one of the best values we've shown this season at $1 the yard; today and tomorrow only—75 cents.

Handsome all-wool cheviot suitings, in popular shades of garnet, green, blue, brown, mode and tan; 54 inches broad, quality sold regularly at $1.25 the yard; $1 today and tomorrow.

50 Cents For 75c Ladies' Cloth.

Here's an extra specialty value—beautiful black Ladies' cloth; full 84 inches broad, firm weave, excellent finish; quality we've never been able to offer in a regular way under 75 cents; specially priced for two days—today and tomorrow—at 50 cents the yard.

Linen Specials.

You know our standard of quality and the fairness of our regular prices? Then you can't fail to appreciate the special lines we tell of today at less than value—much less than some goods can had in any other Los Angeles store.

Excellent quality Irish bleached Damask, highly finished, in spot, panay, clover leaf and fawn patterns, full 70 inches broad, sold in many stores at $1.25 the yard—our regular price $1—on sale for two days only at 75 cents.

HOT COFFEE, BURNT MONEY.

Two Hundred Thousand dollar Blaze.

City Fire Department Out in Force.

Newmark Brothers and Hayden and Lewis Company the Principal Losers.

A loss of $200,000 was caused by a fire that started yesterday morning between 5 and 6 o'clock in a coffee store in the rear of the store of Newmark Bros., Nos. 213-221 North Los Angeles street.

The fire almost totally destroyed the Newmark store and stock; burned the store of the Hayden & Lewis Company, Nos. 223-227, and gutted the building belonging to Rees & Wirsching.

It was the second largest fire in the history of the city, in point of property loss, and only the good work of the firemen prevented much greater damage.

SMOLDERING FOR HOURS. Just when the fire started will never be known, but from the magnitude it had attained at the time it was discovered it is certain that it had been smoldering for hours.

It is not known who saw it first, but a few minutes after 5:30 o'clock an excited citizen rushed to the No. 4 engine-house on Aliso street, near Alameda, and shouted to the firemen that there was a big fire at Newmark's on Los Angeles street.

About the time that this still alarm was given, a fireman named Frank Ferberbach, a sign painter who resides with his family in the rear of the top floor of the Lahn, within twenty feet of the burning building, was awakened by the noise.

men to a handicap which they could not avoid. It was found that some of the streams were practically useless because one engine was taking from another all of the water which was carried in the water mains. The pipes were not large enough for any such fire. Another handicap was the wires, which prevented the use of ladders until the fire was practically under control.

FIREMEN CRITICIZED. After the fire, some question was raised as to why the firemen permitted the fire from ever entering the Hayden & Lewis Company's store, and while it is not known just where the fire jumped from one store to another, to prevent this spread of the flames was not within the range of human possibility. Once the fire had been confined to the Rees & Wirsching building, and the flames which endangered the other structures extinguished, there was nothing for the firemen to do but to keep their streams on the main fire and keep it from spreading. At the start, it was impossible to use ladders, but an hour after the fire was discovered an aerial truck was raised in front of the building and from this a heavy stream was directed into the very heart of the fire.

Some view of the magnitude of the fire at the time the firemen reached the place may be had when it is stated that in less than an hour after the first alarm the roof of the burning store fell, carrying all the rear floors with it, and this caused the rapid spread of the flames. After the stream from the adjoining roof did good service, the fire was finally brought under control.

AN HOUR AFTER THE first alarm, it was estimated that the fire had spread to the Hayden & Lewis Company's store, and while it is not known just where the fire jumped from one store to another, to prevent this spread of the flames was not within the range of human possibility.

working there for half an hour started out to continue their work in another place. They had not reached the street when the ceiling fell upon the men, and they were killed. One of the men would have been killed. One of the men would have been killed. One of the men would have been killed.

LOSSES VERY HEAVY. A conservative estimate of the total destruction of property by the fire is $200,000, with insurance amounting to $127,000. This is divided as follows: Newmark Bros., $90,000; insurance $50,000; Hayden & Lewis Co., $100,000; insurance $50,000; Rees & Wirsching, $100,000; insurance $50,000; minor losses, $2000.

Newmark Bros., wholesale dealers in coffee, tea, spices and flavoring extracts, are the heaviest losers. Phineas Newmark yesterday stated that the company had on hand the largest stock since its establishment eight years ago, and worth approximately $30,000 and $125,000. Samuel W. Newmark is visiting their coffee plantation at San Juan Evangelista, State of Vera Cruz, Mex. He has been informed by telegraph, and until he arrives, which will be at least twelve days, no exact figures concerning the loss can be given.

The losses on the Newmark stock are insured for about $50,000 in the following companies: Caledonian of Edinburgh, $2000; Trans-Atlantic, $1000; Continental of New York, $1000; Niagara, $1000; Traders of New York, $1000; Phoenix of Brooklyn, $1000; Liverpool, London and Globe, $1000; Thuringia of Kurlfur, $1000; Home of New York, $1000.

"The stock is a total loss," said Phineas Newmark yesterday, "but at present I cannot give accurate figures. We are in our eighth year in this business here, and this is the first time my brother has been away during this time."

WATER TOWER NEEDED. "We need a water tower, and have needed one for years," said Chief Strohm last night. "If we had had one this morning, the fire would never have spread beyond the Newmark store. We have room for such a machine at the Aliso-street engine-house, and we could keep water for big fires in the wholesale district. With such a piece of apparatus we could direct six streams through one man."

GUARDIANSHIP CONTEST. The guardianship of Lloyd Hodges, a seven-year-old boy, was contested in the Superior Court. His father died last November, leaving him in charge of Mrs. Alice Bullock, who took out guardianship papers and collected $2000 insurance from the A.O.U.W. When they found that there was no money involved, the boy's grandfather, his mother, Mr. Lovell, and his aunt, Mrs. Bullock, immediately filed a complaint saying that they had not been cited when the appointment was made. Mrs. Bullock immediately resigned and reapplied for the position in order to give them an opportunity for a hearing.

Today Mrs. Bullock won the case, and was awarded the custody of the child. EXPERTISE COURTESY. In view of the statement of N. D. Tichenor of the Snow Flake Bakery to the effect that his business has materially increased since the Federated Trades declared a boycott on his shop, the other bakers, who deserted him in his independent stand for the union, admit that he is getting a good share of the trade, and that the support of the bakers' union is doing them much more harm than good.

They are unable to meet Tichenor's prices, and cannot adequately compete with him. The union and the conditions are not bettered within a few days, to desert the union and become independent. The union and the conditions are not bettered within a few days, to desert the union and become independent.

Grand Master William Nichols of the Odd Fellows, who was expected here tomorrow, and for whose coming great preparations had been made, slipped into the city today unnoticed, and was not discovered until he was found occupying a seat at the meeting of the Mystic Lodge this evening.

AFTER THE RAILROAD. The National City Board of Trustees has directed that suit be brought against the Santa Fe Railroad for the purpose of opening certain streets on the west front where cars are crossed by that company's tracks.

PROF. OLSON DEAD. Information has been received here of the death of Prof. Olson of the schools of this city. He died at Kingsburg, La. State, while on a visit to his parents. School flags are ordered at half-mast for two weeks here.

NOTED SPORTSMAN COMES. Dr. David Nagle, the world-famed sportsman, who has been for more than a dozen years the representative of the Southern California Hunt and the water, has taken possession of his recently-acquired country residence at Richland, near the mouth of the Colorado river, where he has his intention to spend the declining years of his life. Trans-Atlantic, $1200; London, Liverpool and Globe, $2000; total, $14,000. "The loss is total as far as the insurance companies are concerned," said Chief Strohm, who is in charge of the fire department. "The entire stock is destroyed or damaged by fire, smoke or water. We have been in business here for seventeen years."

The building was of brick and owned in equal partnership by Samuel Rees and Robert E. Wirsching. It was worth about $25,000, and carried only $14,000 insurance. The upper stories were built four years ago, although the ground floor was more than sixteen years old. Little, besides the walls are left standing, and these are cracked and damaged.

Three companies carried the $14,000 insurance. The Glen Falls, N. Y. company had one policy for $2500, and the Northwestern National and Milwaukee Mechanics must pay the rest. Mr. Wirsching said last night that they would rebuild as soon as the insurance matter was settled up.

The rear of the Lanfranco building and the old First National Bank building suffered considerable damage. The walls were scorched and windows broken. The following also suffered minor loss by fire, smoke and water: North Main street; Bowles Bros. & Co., commission merchants, No. 217 North Los Angeles street; and the harness dealer, corner of Commercial and Los Angeles, and Joseph Kohn, clothing, No. 108 Commercial street.

WATER TOWER NEEDED. "We need a water tower, and have needed one for years," said Chief Strohm last night. "If we had had one this morning, the fire would never have spread beyond the Newmark store. We have room for such a machine at the Aliso-street engine-house, and we could keep water for big fires in the wholesale district. With such a piece of apparatus we could direct six streams through one man."

GUARDIANSHIP CONTEST. The guardianship of Lloyd Hodges, a seven-year-old boy, was contested in the Superior Court. His father died last November, leaving him in charge of Mrs. Alice Bullock, who took out guardianship papers and collected $2000 insurance from the A.O.U.W. When they found that there was no money involved, the boy's grandfather, his mother, Mr. Lovell, and his aunt, Mrs. Bullock, immediately filed a complaint saying that they had not been cited when the appointment was made.

Mrs. Bullock immediately resigned and reapplied for the position in order to give them an opportunity for a hearing.

Today Mrs. Bullock won the case, and was awarded the custody of the child. EXPERTISE COURTESY. In view of the statement of N. D. Tichenor of the Snow Flake Bakery to the effect that his business has materially increased since the Federated Trades declared a boycott on his shop, the other bakers, who deserted him in his independent stand for the union, admit that he is getting a good share of the trade, and that the support of the bakers' union is doing them much more harm than good.

They are unable to meet Tichenor's prices, and cannot adequately compete with him. The union and the conditions are not bettered within a few days, to desert the union and become independent.

BAKERFIELD, Jan. 10.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] Dr. T. A. Taggart, County Health Officer, has returned from Randsburg, and reports that there are sixty-five cases of smallpox in that town, all of them light in character. No patient has yet died of the disease, and no one is likely to. A strict quarantine is maintained, and there is every reason to believe that the epidemic is now under complete control.

DR. HILL TAKES HOLD. THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P. M. RANDSBURG, Jan. 10.—Dr. Randolph W. Hill, president of the State Board of Health, came from Los Angeles last evening at the request of the Supervisors of Kern County, to look into the situation and advise as to the best means of stamping out smallpox. THEY had gone out to stay, but in spite of their unity the road was by no means tight up. True, the crews were forced to double, and some of them came from the offices, but nevertheless traffic was not greatly interrupted. At 7:30 the west-bound mail was scheduled to leave at 8 p.m. and to run the 101 miles in two hours and three minutes. The engineer selected to take the train was one who had been employed for that day only, but he had shown, even in that short time, a willingness to do things square.

BUSY BEEKEEPERS HOLDING CONVENTION.

DELEGATES FROM ALL SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA HERE.

Apiarist Says Business Was Injured by Overestimation of This Year's Honey Crop—Officers to Be Elected This Morning.

The California State Beekeepers' Association met yesterday afternoon and evening at the Chamber of Commerce, in regular annual session. Delegates from all the bee districts of Southern California were present, and matters of vital interest to apiarists were discussed in an informal manner.

At the morning meeting talks on the subject of collaboration were made by A. H. Nafziger of this city, Prof. A. R. Sprague of Claremont, and T. H. B. Chambers of Riverside. A change of the constitution of the association, permitting all members who pay a certain fee to become members of the National Beekeepers' Association.

The evening session was devoted to an open discussion of bee raising, and its present financial and climatic conditions. The report that has been circulated to hand in written questions, and these were read by the president, and the views of the audience exchanged thereon.

The opinion of all seemed to be that if the near future does not bring an abundance of rain, the bee business will be in a bad way, and the price of honey will materially advance. The producers are receiving 1 cent a pound for the best strained honey. They are saving their lower-grade honey to feed the bees in case the dry weather continues.

"We have been somewhat injured," said one of the apiarists yesterday, "by the report that has been circulated to the effect that the honey output of California this year will amount to 600 carloads. The fact is the total will not be more than 150 or 200 carloads. By circulating the report that there is an abundant crop, the price for our product goes down among the dealers, when it really should be high."

During the most prosperous years California's crop of honey has amounted to 1,000,000 pounds; but for several seasons it never has fallen short. One of the objects of this year's session of the association is to consider an improvement of the existing laws for the protection of the bee.

FORESTERS' ENTERTAINMENT. Court La Fiesta, Independent Order Foresters, gave a successful entertainment last night in Paul's Hall on West Washington street. A large crowd was present during the evening.

GORDON AND BRADNER WIN AT BILLIARDS. A large audience witnessed two good contests. Drawing for Sunday's Cousing-Ball Magazine Here from Colorado—Neil and Donovan to Fight Again—Golf at Pasadena Club.

The third set of games in the three-cushion tournament was played last night at the Hoffman before the usual large crowd, and the winners proved to be Theodore Gordon and J. M. Walters, Gordon played a pretty game, and finished his twenty-one points in forty-four innings.

He needed all his skill, however, for Kuhn followed him closely throughout the game, and only lost by two points. He played a very consistent game, but did not make a higher run than two, which he did three times. Gordon's high run was three, and during the game he made a number of very slick shots, which earned the applause they won.

In the second game Bradner had no difficulty in beating Walters, who had scored but nine when Bradner finished his twenty-one points in forty-four innings. He needed all his skill, however, for Kuhn followed him closely throughout the game, and only lost by two points.

Colored People Organized Last Night to Carry on Training School and Orphanage. Another movement tending to the betterment of the condition of the colored people of this section, several of which have been started recently, was fairly launched last night at a meeting of the Woman's Literary and Industrial Club, held in the Asmus Street African Methodist Episcopal Church, which has as its sponsor the Woman's Club, having a membership of about 250 of the most intelligent and progressive colored women of Los Angeles.

The object, as outlined last night, will be to establish primarily a day nursery and orphanage, and as soon as possible to incorporate with this work a home and training school for girls. The ladies do not purpose waiting for funds with which to erect a building, but will rent a suitable building, and put their plans in operation at once.

A board of managers for the new institution was elected as follows: Misses E. Barr, R. H. Washington, M. Barr, E. H. Clarkson, C. M. Baker, Ida Beard, E. Fannell, J. B. Roan, and J. J. Nelson. The advisory board is composed of Rev. J. E. Edwards, pastor of the Asmus Street Church, Mrs. M. A. Alcham, Mrs. V. O. Ott, J. J. Nelson, editor of the Eagle, Rev. W. H. C. Nelson. Committees were appointed, and the new movement will be further considered at a meeting to be held at the same place next Wednesday evening.

After the business of the Industrial Home was disposed of, the Woman's Club rendered an interesting programme, the special feature of which was a paper by Mrs. W. Odenal of Chicago, on "The Beauty and Character of Nobleness of Character," a paper full of practical suggestions for the upbuilding of the nation.

GORDON AND BRADNER WIN AT BILLIARDS. A large audience witnessed two good contests. Drawing for Sunday's Cousing-Ball Magazine Here from Colorado—Neil and Donovan to Fight Again—Golf at Pasadena Club.

The third set of games in the three-cushion tournament was played last night at the Hoffman before the usual large crowd, and the winners proved to be Theodore Gordon and J. M. Walters, Gordon played a pretty game, and finished his twenty-one points in forty-four innings.

He needed all his skill, however, for Kuhn followed him closely throughout the game, and only lost by two points. He played a very consistent game, but did not make a higher run than two, which he did three times. Gordon's high run was three, and during the game he made a number of very slick shots, which earned the applause they won.

In the second game Bradner had no difficulty in beating Walters, who had scored but nine when Bradner finished his twenty-one points in forty-four innings. He needed all his skill, however, for Kuhn followed him closely throughout the game, and only lost by two points.

Colored People Organized Last Night to Carry on Training School and Orphanage. Another movement tending to the betterment of the condition of the colored people of this section, several of which have been started recently, was fairly launched last night at a meeting of the Woman's Literary and Industrial Club, held in the Asmus Street African Methodist Episcopal Church, which has as its sponsor the Woman's Club, having a membership of about 250 of the most intelligent and progressive colored women of Los Angeles.

The object, as outlined last night, will be to establish primarily a day nursery and orphanage, and as soon as possible to incorporate with this work a home and training school for girls. The ladies do not purpose waiting for funds with which to erect a building, but will rent a suitable building, and put their plans in operation at once.

A board of managers for the new institution was elected as follows: Misses E. Barr, R. H. Washington, M. Barr, E. H. Clarkson, C. M. Baker, Ida Beard, E. Fannell, J. B. Roan, and J. J. Nelson. The advisory board is composed of Rev. J. E. Edwards, pastor of the Asmus Street Church, Mrs. M. A. Alcham, Mrs. V. O. Ott, J. J. Nelson, editor of the Eagle, Rev. W. H. C. Nelson. Committees were appointed, and the new movement will be further considered at a meeting to be held at the same place next Wednesday evening.

After the business of the Industrial Home was disposed of, the Woman's Club rendered an interesting programme, the special feature of which was a paper by Mrs. W. Odenal of Chicago, on "The Beauty and Character of Nobleness of Character," a paper full of practical suggestions for the upbuilding of the nation.

Physicians for Men

No man would think for a moment of seeking the aid of a regular physician in the treatment of his teeth, yet the private diseases of men are far more complicated than dentistry and require far more special training and experience.

We treat men in a common sense method. Whether the disease has been contracted or whether it is the result of excess or abuse, we understand the condition. We have treated thousands of just such ailments as yours and we administer remedies whose effect is at once noticeable. We believe in not only curing a disease, but getting the system into a healthy, vigorous, manly state. Our fees are moderate and consultation is free.

Write for sealed particulars of our home treatment.
